

U-M Surgeons Ready For Heart Transplants

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Surgeons at the University of Michigan Medical Center are technically ready to try human heart and lung transplants.

Whether they do depends partly on the outcome of current research and on the willingness of doctors to venture in a risky field where odds of success are largely unknown.

When the surgeons do attempt their first heart transplant, they will concentrate on infants born with faulty hearts and virtually no chance to survive beyond a few weeks.

Before this will be done, however, they want to know whether the transplanted heart will grow. To check this, they have been replacing hearts in calves for about a month. About three more months are needed to get a preliminary answer.

On lungs, surgeons indicated it is extremely difficult to tell with certainty when a person with lung problems will die. Only a handful of human lung transplants have been tried in the world and none of the patients has survived.

"The surgical techniques involved in both heart and lung transplants are not particularly difficult," said Dr. Herbert E. Sloan Jr., professor of surgery at the University of Michigan.

"The technical part of a heart transplant operation is no major problem," said Dr. Donald R. Kahn, associate professor of heart and lung surgery. "It is a major operation, but any well-groomed open heart unit could perform it with relative ease."

All human heart transplant operations so far have used the technique developed by Dr. Norman Shumway, a native of Kal-amazon, who is on the staff of Stanford University Medical Center. Shumway led the surgical team in the recent transplant of Mike Kasperak.

The main problem faced by a transplant team is not the operation, but from body efforts to destroy foreign tissue. The University of Michigan has no breakthrough information on stopping rejection of new organs, but has transplanted 34 kidneys since March 18, 1964. "We've learned from kidneys that we have a pretty good chance of survival if we go ahead under ideal circumstances," the doctors said.

Michigan surgeons feel they are technically ready to perform lung transplants, but Sloan indicated it could be some time before the medical staff feels confident enough to present a patient for surgery.

Kennedy Urges Bombing Halt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has called anew for a halt to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam—a halt military sources contend Hanoi would use for a massive resupply operation.

Kennedy, the New York Democrat who has opposed aspects of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, said Sunday the United States should halt the bombing in an effort to spur peace talks.

Pentagon sources reported meanwhile military officers are gathering evidence from U.S. reconnaissance flights that they say suggests North Vietnam plans to take advantage of even a brief pause in the bombing to resupply hard-pressed units in South Vietnam.

While Kennedy urged a halt in bombing, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., opposed it and argued: "We don't dare to go to any conference table strictly on a fishing expedition. That is totally irresponsible."

His comment referred to Kennedy's statement that recent peace feelers by North Vietnam represent "an opening—I think we have to accept that." Kennedy specifically mentioned an assertion by Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh that Hanoi will talk if U.S. bombing and other acts of "aggression" are stopped.

Johnson's State of the Union pledge that bombing would stop if North Vietnam agreed not to take military advantage of the pause was rejected as "insolent" Sunday by the official North Vietnamese newspaper Nhan Dan.

Another critic of Johnson's policies, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said a "negotiated settlement" remains the only way to end the war. And Michigan Gov. George Romney, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said the United States should not be "stiff-necked" about pursuing North Vietnam's latest hint of peace talks.

Kennedy and McGee appeared on a special CBS television program, Fulbright on NBC's "Meet the Press" and Romney on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Military men said they believe a pause is being weighed by the White House with the approach of the Vietnamese Tet, or lunar new year holiday which this year begins Jan. 30.

Last year air attacks were stopped during the traditional holiday period.

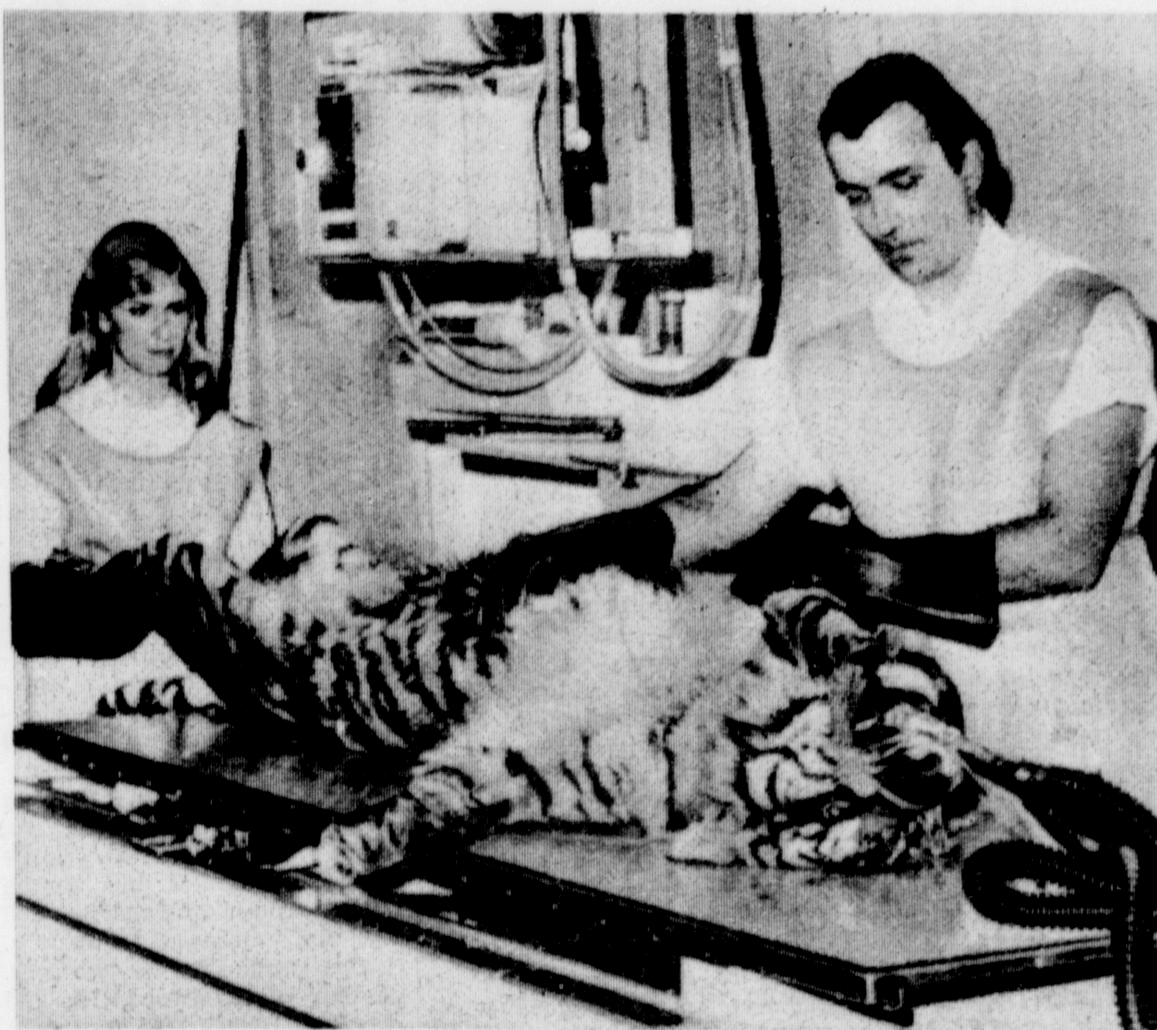

The Viet Cong already have proclaimed their intention to observe a seven-day Tet cease-fire in South Vietnam. The Saigon government says it will go along with a 36-hour truce. Saigon sources said U.S. concurrence in the shortened period came directly from the White House.

Pentagon officers expect President Johnson will decide in the next few days whether to include a bombing pause over the North in the cease-fire.

Johnson Forces Open Tax Hike Drive Today

"THIS IS A PRETTY sick tiger," said Dr. Paul Tillotson of Michigan State University's Veterinary Clinic as he and student Lynne Weaver X-ray an 8-year-old Bengal tiger that formerly worked with the Shrine Circus. Tillotson says clinic officials still are trying to determine why the tiger's temperature has fallen from 100 degrees, which is normal, to 94, with an accompanying weight drop of about 100 pounds. Officials Plead Deficit Threat To Dollar Value

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials face the task of convincing an economy-minded Congress that a proposed spending increase should not stand in the way of a tax hike.

Top officials are expected to argue today—when the House Ways and Means Committee once more takes up the tax boost proposal—that a $10.4 billion spending increase is essentially earmarked for Vietnam and domestic programs over which the administration has no control.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze will renew Johnson's case for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge before the tax-writing committee.

Study Budget

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., has let it be known in advance, however, that the committee does not intend to decide on taxes until it has had time to study thoroughly the budget for coming fiscal year beginning July 1.

The spending program is slated to be presented to Congress a week from today.

The administration spokesmen are expected to bear down hard, in their arguments before the committee, on what they term a threat to the dollar in international markets if U.S. budget deficits get out of hand. Backing them is Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr., one of the original proponents of a tax increase and spending cuts.

Chrysler Tots Up New Record

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. and its consolidated subsidiaries hit a record $6.2 billion in sales last year, the firm announced Sunday.

The company said it sold 2,251,803 cars and trucks, up 5.5 per cent over 1966.

For the fifth straight year, it said, its share of retail sales of new passenger cars in the United States increased, rising to 17.9 per cent of the total of 1,353,139 units. It was 16.7 per cent or 1,399,741 units in 1966.

The company said it was the fourth consecutive annual sales record. In 1966 sales were $5.6 billion.

Preliminary net earnings were $200.4 million or $4.35 a share, compared to $189.2 million or $4.16 in 1966.

Fourth-quarter sales were a record $2 billion, and net earnings totaled $107 million, the company said. Sales were up 21 per cent over the final quarter of 1966. Earnings were $65.8 million in the final quarter of 1966.

Dividend payments to 180,000 shareholders reached a high of $92 million last year.

The company said it reached a record $1.3 billion in sales outside the United States and Canada. In 1966 it was $895 million.

5 Survive B52 Greenland Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—A B52 bomber carrying nuclear weapons crashed in Greenland Sunday, the Pentagon announced today.

A Defense Department statement said the atomic devices were unarmed "so that there is no danger of a nuclear explosion at the crash site."

Seven crewmen were aboard the Air Force B52, and five are known to have survived. One body had been found and search and rescue operations are under way for the seventh.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—and to the medical community as well," Dr. Shumway said.

Although Mike Kasperak died on the 15th day after his diseased heart was replaced, his doctor feels transplant operations will be continued.

"There was no evidence of rejection of the heart," Dr. Norman E. Shumway told newsmen Sunday at Stanford University Medical Center. "If the findings of the post mortem bear this out, then we feel we have every basis on which to plan another clinical attempt."

Kasperak, 54, died at 1:43 a.m. Sunday following kidney failure, liver failure and other complications.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The world's only surviving heart transplant patient continued in good condition today, Groote Schuur hospital reported.

Philip Blaiberg's wife said he asked for a champagne party when he is released from the hospital. The doctors expect to let him out next month if he has no setbacks.

Blaiberg received history's third heart transplant 20 days ago.

The widow of the man who donated the heart, Dorothy Haupt, arrived in Durban Sunday for a vacation.

Romney Believes Nixon Chief Rival

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney, with growing reports that his presidential campaigning is paying off, turns his attention again today to state affairs.

While pending measures in the Legislature include the hot topic of open housing, Romney is expected to mix state business with more presidential touring.

His schedule calls for trips to Washington and other non-Michigan points this week.

The hustling governor said in a Sunday television interview that he believes the race for the Republican presidential nomination this year will be between himself and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"I think the contest is basically going to be between the two of us," Romney said on the "Issues and Answers" program of the American Broadcasting Co.

Added Romney:

Others Too Late

"I don't think those who hold back in the hopes that lightning will strike will figure in this. They will be too late. I think the contest is going to be between Mr. Nixon and me.

"I expect to support the 1968 Republican nominee and I expect to be that nominee. But I expect to support the nominee."

Those apparently holding back on presidential aspirations could include California Gov. Ronald Reagan and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Both have been mentioned often as possible nominees, but each disavows intent to seek the position.

On Saturday, Rockefeller asserted again his support for Romney in the face of calls for

William Kelsey Dies In Detroit

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Private funeral services will be held in Toledo for William O. Kelsey, who was a reporter and columnist for the Detroit News for 58 years. Kelsey died Saturday at a Detroit nursing home at the age of 82.

him to declare himself a candidate for the nomination.

Among the most recent such suggestions was one from his brother, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas.

Supports Romney

"The governor is not a candidate," said an aide of the New York chief executive. "He is not a candidate," said an aide of the New York chief executive. "He is supporting George Romney."

Romney spent the weekend swinging his campaign program from New Hampshire to Wisconsin, two of the states which have presidential primaries that will greatly influence Romney's chance of getting the nomination.

On the ABC program, Romney said, "I think I have to make a strong showing in New Hampshire and I expect to win."

There were other reports that Romney's victory chances are improving.

Upturn Started
Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., predicted Saturday that the Michigan governor would get more votes in New Hampshire than his critics expect.

"He makes a very good impression on the people he meets," Aiken said on Metro-media's "Opinion-Washington."

Romney's New Hampshire campaign manager, William R. Johnson, said happily, "We've started the upturn."

And, after a year of political setbacks, Romney's campaign swing stirred his national campaign chairman, Leonard W. Hall, to say, "We're all smiles. It was an encouraging start."

Romney spent most of his time in New Hampshire seeing small groups of voters, debating with Democrats at factory gates and shaking hands along the streets.

The governor said the trip convinced him he will win in New Hampshire, despite Nixon's current 2-1 lead in popular support according to the polls.

Romney carefully avoided saying, however, that a loss to Nixon would knock him out of the presidential running.

Even a Nixon strategist acknowledged that Romney appeared to be increasing in support in New Hampshire, but said this was inevitable in view of the one-sided nature of the early polls.

Marines Claim 103 Reds Killed In 2-Day Battle

SAIGON (AP)—Waves of big U.S. Air Force B52 strategic bombers pounded suspected North Vietnamese positions in the embattled Khe Sanh Valley Monday as fighting died down to only a few rounds of enemy mortar fire.

The huge eight-engine Stratofortresses struck four times in 24 hours around the big U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh that guards the northwest approaches from the demilitarized zone and Laos into South Vietnam.

The bombers dropped their loads of up to 50,000 pounds of explosives each on suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations, staging and storage areas in a wide area ranging from three miles southeast of Khe Sanh to 15 miles north of the base.

In addition, Air Force, Marine and Navy fighter-bombers flew more than 50 strikes Sunday in support of hard-pressed allied forces who for two days beat off brutal mortar, artillery and ground assaults.

Military officials ordered newsmen to stay away from the area. But one who did get a glimpse of the main Khe Sanh base, Associated Press photographer Dang Van Phuoc, said Communist rockets left some Marine bunkers and huts in rubble and smoke blanketed the entire camp. The allied strongpoint guards the northwest approaches to South Vietnam from Laos, where the North Vietnamese troops are believed to group up.

U.S. officers in Saigon and Da Nang reported 15 Marines killed and 65 wounded in the fighting Saturday and Sunday.

Aid To Non-Public Schools Proposed

The financial crisis in the Upper Peninsula's non-public schools was described at a meeting for leaders in the coming effort at a legislative solution of the problem Sunday afternoon at Holy Name High School.

Citizens For Educational Freedom (CEF) will ask the Michigan Legislature on Feb. 15 to appropriate $21 million a year to help the non-public elementary and high schools of Michigan under an arrangement similar to the state tuition grant program by which the state is now helping the state's non-public colleges and universities cope with financial crisis.

The financial crisis in Upper Peninsula non-public schools tightens, as it does in the state. It has already closed St. Paul's Catholic High School at Negaunee and made Bishop Baraga High School at Marquette a charge of the Marquette Catholic Diocese instead of the parishes of the City of Marquette.

Students Transferring

State education costs have been increased $18 million in the past three years by transfer of 28,000 students from non-public schools to public school, and it is estimated that were all non-public school children to transfer to public schools the total added costs for education to the state and the communities involved would be $202 million a year, without buildings, so the proposed state subsidy of $21 million would be about 10 per cent of total quirement for a 25 per cent gold cover on federal reserve notes.

This would free about $11 billion to meet foreign claims against the dollar, thus supporting U.S. currency in the international markets.

The Ways and Means Committee begins hearings Feb. 5 on other administration proposals for improving the U.S. balance-of-payments situation.

Administration sources reported over the weekend that Johnson's upcoming budget will offer less of a stimulant to the economy than the President's two previous budgets.

These sources said the budget will show a $2 billion deficit on a national income account basis—the bookkeeping system that economists consider the best guide to the impact of federal spending on the economy.

Historians On Peninsula Tour

Two eminent Michigan historians, Robert M. Warner of Ann Arbor and Donald Chaput of Lansing, will speak to Upper Peninsula historical societies at a series of meetings this week, arranged by the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Charles Follo, Escanaba, U. of M. Extension assistant director, made arrangements for the tour and will accompany Chaput and Warner. Their schedule:

Iron Mountain—7 o'clock tonight in the Dickinson Hotel with the Dickinson County Historical Society.

Menominee — Tuesday noon the Menominee Rotary Club with members of the Menominee Historical Society present.

Manistique—Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 103 of the Manistique High School. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Mrs. J. J. Herbert for the Schoolcraft County Historical Society. The meeting will be conducted by President Harold Cochran. (The speakers will be Chaput and Warner, not Kelsey and Jamison as previously announced.)

St. Ignace—Wednesday noon, the Kiwanis Club, with members of the Michilimackinac Historical Society.

Sault Ste. Marie—Wednesday evening at Lake Superior State College, a meeting of the Chippewa County Historical Society.

Warner, a native of Colorado, received his bachelor degree from Muskingum College and his masters and doctors from the University of Michigan. Presently he is associate professor of history at the U. of M.

His work in the Michigan Historical Collections of the U. of M. is widely recognized and he has published extensively on historical subjects. He is a trustee of the Michigan Historical Society.

Don Chaput, who was born in Copper Country of the Upper Peninsula, is editor and research director of the Michigan Historical Commission.

He attended Suomi College at Hancock, received his bachelor degree from Northland College, Ashland, Wis., and his masters from Michigan State University. He has taught in high schools and a community college.

Chaput's writings, dealing largely with the Indians and the fur trade, have been published in this country and Canada.

Death Claims Mrs. Bouchard

Mrs. Zelma M. Bouchard, 85, of 407 S. 14th St. died at 7:25 a.m. Monday at the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in Powers. She had been in failing health for the past five months.

Mrs. Bouchard was born Feb. 13, 1882 in St. Felician, Quebec, Canada and came to Michigan at the age of 19. She resided in Schaffer until 1941 when she moved to Escanaba.

Mrs. Bouchard was a member of St. Anne's Church, St. Anne's Social Club, St. Anne's Altar Society of the Sacred Heart Church of Schaffer, and the Third Order of St. Francis. She is survived by two sons, Arthur of Wildwood, Ill. and Louis of Detroit; six daughters, Mrs. D. H. (Clara) Vander Veen of Salerno, Fla., Mrs. William (Violet) Lantagne, Schaffer, Mrs. William (Bernadette) Germain of Taylor, Mich., Mrs. Lucian (Jeanette) Guenette, Schaffer, Mrs. Edwin (Mary Ann) Carlson of Ford River and Yolanda, at home; 28 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The Third Order of St. Francis will recite the Rosary at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Anne's Church with Rev. Stephen Mayrand officiating. Burial will be in the Schaffer Cemetery with services at the Holy Cross Chapel.

Master Mason Degree Team Coming Feb. 3

On Saturday, Feb. 3, at 4 p.m. the special Master Mason Degree team of Ahmed Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Marquette, will officiate at a special communication to be held at the Escanaba Masonic Temple, Delta Lodge No. 195, conferring the Master Mason Degree on candidates Joseph Royer, Richard Bowers and James Schultz.

The program will be conducted by the visiting Shriners consisting of 26 active participants. The cast is under the supervision of Russell Chest and John Akkala, officiating as co-directors.

The afternoon session will conclude with a supper to be served in the Lodge dining room at 6 with a resumption of degree work scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

The special communication is a prelude to the celebration to be held on March 2, which marks the 100th anniversary of Delta Lodge No. 195 whose charter was granted during the year 1867. The occasion will also be the first appearance of the Ahmed Temple Shriners Degree team performing in the Escanaba area.

The worshipful master and senior deacon of the Masonic Blue Lodge of Marquette will be among the many guests, including the illustrious potentate and a past of his Divan representing Ahmed Temple.

Dinner to be served in the Lodge dining room will be by reservation only. All Masons are invited to attend.

There are now almost twice as many motels as there are hotels in the United States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Extra Cat Invades House

MARQUETTE — There were three cats instead of the usual two in the basement of the Matt Thompson farmhouse near Watson the other night.

One of the cats was a bobcat.

The discovery was made after Mrs. Thompson heard a strange noise in the basement and notified her husband, who is a sixth-grade teacher at L'Anse.

Thompson checked the basement and found himself confronted with the snarling bobcat. It evidently gained access to the basement through a window the Thompsons leave open to permit their two house cats to enter.

Mrs. Thompson brought her husband a rifle and shells and he quickly killed the intruder while one house cat looked on from atop the furnace and the other sat calmly on the woodpile.

Mead Tells Confidence In Escanaba

"I'm sure it's obvious by now how the Mead Corp. feels about progress in Escanaba," Robert P. Arvold of Dayton, vice president of Mead in charge of its Publishing Papers Division, told 175 diners at the Escanaba Area Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service awards banquet at the Dells Supper Club Saturday night.

"Our decision to go ahead with what must be the largest single expansion project Mead has ever undertaken should be evidence enough," said Arvold.

He was speaker at an overflow dinner assembly which saw the Jaycees hailing Mead for the largest single industrial expansion in the history of the community and one unprecedented in the Upper Peninsula. The first phase, recently announced, calls for an expenditure of $56.6 million and there are two other phases to follow.

Richard Hanson was master of ceremonies at the dinner program, at which questions were answered after Arvold's talk. One about increased employment brought explanation that in the third quarter of 1969, after completion of Phase 1 of the expansion program, there will be 200 new jobs in the Escanaba Division. In the construction period a total of about 1,200 persons will be employed in construction on the project between now and the fall of 1969.

Citizen Interest
Arvold said "We at Mead are asked why we're so vitally interested in community progress, and in having our people do their share in bringing it about? Most people give a stock answer that we want the kind of community that's going to attract good employees, but I keep asking what they mean by that?"

"Quite often they mention good housing, shopping areas, churches, recreational facilities, and responsible government. Almost without exception they would list good schools. The more I asked and thought about this the more I kept coming back to something you hear very often these days: 'Pay isn't everything.' No one doubts that good pay is mighty important, but it doesn't provide the complete answer for attracting good employees and keeping them.

Beyond Pay
"The money a person earns is only one means for getting what he and his family wants from life. If those things aren't available where he works and live, it won't matter how much you pay him. He won't be able to have that 'good life' which most of us want to pursue.

"Where you call it a selfish motive or say it's enlightened self-interest, you can see how important community progress is to any company, in terms of providing incentive for its employees.

"That's one of the reasons our company, at least, encourages its employees to get involved in community activities. We know they have the energy and talent which can be used to make their town a better and far more interesting place in which to live.

Personal Gain
"Not only can their work in United Appeal campaigns, service club projects, church activities, schools and government help make their community better, but it makes them better too. They become interested and stimulated. They learn and develop; they find personal satisfactions to supplement those we try to provide in their jobs.

"And satisfaction is a contagious thing. Their families feel it. Their neighbors feel it and their co-workers feel it. The whole community feels it.

"Learning and developing and finding personal satisfaction is a very vital thing. Physiologically we begin to die at age 20, but intellectually and psychologically we can continue to grow for many many years. This psychological growth can more than compensate for our physical deterioration.

Families Motivated
"Winston Churchill is one of the greatest examples of the kind of growth I'm talking about. On the other hand we

ROBERT P. all know examples of people who are dying in both directions. You just can't grow at a very rapid rate spending all of your time in front of the TV set with a cold beer.

"This idea works in your family, too, getting them to participate and feel a sense of satisfaction... So there you have some awfully good reasons why any company is interested in its community's progress and interested in having its people play an active role in achieving that progress.

"Mead Corp. is both pleased and proud that its people are active in such things as Junior Achievement, the Delta County Historical Society, the County Building Authority, the Escanaba Safety Commission, Bay de Noc College Board of Trustees, school boards, service clubs and many other activities. Mead people serve as township clerks, councilmen, hospital trustees, service club presidents and naturally we're proud of Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe. (He's traffic manager of Mead Escanaba Division.)

Young Are Able
"Our young generation is ready, willing and able to contribute. They comprise the most service-minded generation in our history... The company or the community which fails to give these well-educated, energetic young people a chance to contribute in important ways is just not going to make meaningful progress over the long haul. We must create the kind of environment in which young people, and we older persons can get satisfaction from participation and can be stimulated by activities.

"If they can't find this kind of stimulation and satisfaction in their home town, they're going to leave. You can't blame them. They go to college where they are challenged to serve in meaningful ways. They go into military service and are asked to shoulder immense responsibilities. Can they possibly be satisfied to live in a town which asks less of them. I think not.

Expensive Towns
"And I think that Jaycee work is tremendously successful throughout America because it appeals to the drives and energies of young people. It gives them a challenge and a chance to serve.

"I'm convinced it's more expensive to run a company in (a backward) place. A community with inefficient local government discourages expansion and even the continuation of existing operations because it breeds red tape, distrust and ill-will at every step of the way.

"A town whose local business are weak can't provide the skills, services and supplies its neighbor companies often need. I think any company wants to feel it has a good reservoir of goods and services available right there in its own community. Otherwise, it has to carry bigger inventories of many supplies, and it has to put up with longer delays when special skills are needed in a hurry.

Mead And Escanaba
"A town that's down emotionally or economically—and they often go together—is a town which eventually takes out its frustrations on its industries. This kind of thing makes day-to-day operations more difficult. It depresses employee morale and it results in the company having to spend time and money trying to alleviate problems which needn't have been there in the first place.

"These frustrations tend to create an unhappy community divided into pro-industry and anti-industry camps. When you get to that stage, watch out. The economic vitality of your community is in serious danger. I'm sure it's obvious how Mead feels about Escanaba: having made a decision to go ahead with its largest single expansion project here."

Poverty In The U.P.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) was asked on a visit to the Upper Peninsula last week about the prospects for national legislation as he now views it at the beginning of the Congress session. He said that there are huge national pressures for control of crime and of rioting.

President Johnson touched on this in his State of the Union message last week and the mere mention of it drew the largest applause from his congressional audience.

"The people are worried about safety in the streets," said Ruppe. "Crime is increasing at some such fantastic rate as 30 per cent a year in Washington, and now rioting in the streets is extending the problem."

"I support the President," said Ruppe in his rehabilitation and education program (as an attack on the source of the problem and not just a police method effort to control it) but where he aims at the big cities. I would make it available wherever the need exists. We couldn't have a better program to cope with this problem.

"And I am in unison with the President in seeking a partnership with private industry in this effort, because industry can absorb the trainees later as employees."

Ruppe is concerned that the federal government's efforts in dealing with poverty, a root source of disorders and crime, are aimed so largely at the big cities. There the problems are getting most attention because of disorders and high crime rates, Detroit is an example.

Ruppe is co-sponsoring in the House a bill passed in the last session in the Senate under the leadership of Karl Mundt (R-South Dakota) for the creation of a bipartisan commission on balanced development (between urban and rural areas).

"Economic growth," said Ruppe "tends to be in the cities, but it hasn't solved their problems. They have slums, crime, poverty, pollution, transportation problems and many others. The federal government is directing its efforts to solving poverty in these situations, but — just because rural people aren't shooting policemen and burning down neighborhoods it doesn't mean that they don't have poverty, too."

"I want to see some government expenditures to cure poverty in the rural areas like the Upper Peninsula; in the award of defense contracts to such areas to help their economies. The whole country would be better off if we had an economy balanced between urban and rural communities. I want to be sure that we're having a good look at the rest of the country when we're legislating on the relief of poverty."

The attack upon rural poverty is difficult inherently because rural people show a strong will for self-survival and they stay on the land and make-do with very little income, while their city cousins form soup lines and bring heavy political pressures to force government rescue. It is difficult even to identify the rural poor in some situations because of their willingness to try to survive on their own efforts.

Areas like the Upper Peninsula often get government aid programs which were written to help big city impoverished. Bending them into usefulness in the U. P. takes some doing.

A big concern of planning for the relief of poverty in the U. P. is not the mere survival of our people — that isn't involved — but the training of our people for modern methods of making a living and providing an opportunity for them to do it when they acquire job skills.

At present, only industry can provide jobs on a big scale, so any partnership between industry and government to train and employ the unemployed is doubly useful. It ends dependency upon government for support for these people and it makes them producers.

George Rusch of UPCA tells a story of an Indian leader in Chippewa County who says that if the Negroes can get all the attention and aid that they got with misbehavior in the cities it's time for the Indians to put on warpaint and start burning so they can get some of the rewards of bad behavior too, orderly protest having availed them nothing. The suggestion is facetious, but it points a harsh truth.

Congress is increasingly oriented toward the big cities in dispensing federal aids. We ruralites have got to come out of the forests with our muskets to remind Congress that we have needs, too.

1968: No Leash On Creeping Inflation

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A number of knowledgeable government officials with whom this reporter has been in contact, see little chance of preventing creeping inflation from continuing in 1968.

These men make studies for government planning purposes. They now think it won't be possible for President Johnson's hold-the-line men to prevent industrial wages from rising by at least 5 per cent in 1968.

This increase is well above the 3.2 per cent annual wage rise the President's Council of Economic Advisers a few years ago called the maximum-average-gain allowable if we were not to have inflation.

Union men say rising prices in 1966 forced them to insist on heavy wage boosts in 1967. Rising 1967 prices in turn will lead to heavier wage demands in 1968.

Large as a result of the predicted 1968 wage gains and the realized gains in 1967, the government experts expect living costs to rise significantly across the board next year.

(Because of narrowing profit margins, the President has been equally unsuccessful of late in getting major industries to hold the price line.)

Over-all, prices are expected to gain 3 to 4 per cent in 1968.

Between 1959 and 1964, prices increased an average 1.2 per cent a year. In 1965, the gain was 1.7 per cent; in 1966, 2.9 per cent. September 1967 prices were 2.6 per cent above September 1966.

Today, average mortgage interest rates are pushing up toward 7 per cent.

Service costs are moving up firmly and are expected to lead the 1968 price rise. Medical care and household services will also be in the forefront of the gains.

Clothing will cost more, both because of rising labor costs and widening retail margins.

Furniture, tires, new and used cars, appliances, radios and television sets are believed certain to increase further in price.

Retail food prices, which moved up about 1 per cent this year, are expected to rise 2 to 3 per cent in 1968.

Food eaten out—in restaurants, hotels, cafeterias and elsewhere—is expected to cost 5 per cent more. That's on top of a 5 per cent gain in 1967.

These rising prices, in turn, presumably will cause unions to ask for higher wage increases in late 1968 and in 1969 to enable workers to hold their own. That would dictate another round of price increases — and then another increase in wages.

Businessmen this reporter has talked to believe the only way out of the spiral is another strong round of automation.

"Now if We Can Just Get a Little Heat Out of This Thing!"

Slave Revolt Novel Popular

Racism's Origin In Slavery Is Recalled

By KENNETH S. LOWE

For several weeks the most talked-about novel in the United States has been a startling book entitled "The Confessions of Nat Turner" by William Styron. As nearly everyone knows, it is a fictionalized account of the only slave uprising in the history of the United States.

That event, occurring in the late summer of 1831 in the Tidewater country of Virginia, is accorded no more than a footnote in most histories of this nation. It was a mad venture doomed to failure, but before it had run its course the rebellious slaves, led by Nat Turner, had brutally murdered 55 whites.

No more than 75 slaves had taken a part in the revolt, but more than 200 Negroes, most of them innocent, were slain in reprisal. Ironically, many slaves fought side by side with their masters against Nat Turner's forces, completely crippling his hopes of success.

First Person Story

Out of this almost forgotten ordeal, Styron has fashioned a daring novel. He has taken an obscure figure in American history and given him a new life and character that readers are not likely soon to forget. Styron has brought Nat Turner to life by boldly telling his story in the first person. The reader thus sees slavery through the eyes of a slave. Mesmerized by Styron's narrative skill, he not only sees slavery, he hears and smells and feels slavery. And he is haunted by the horrible thought of it.

Consider this powerful passage, one of scores of bitter descriptions of what we euphemistically refer to as the "institution of slavery." Nat Turner is telling of his first encounter with a new master:

Quote From Novel

"Like the hunger, I had never felt a whip before, and the pain of it when it came, coiling around the side of my neck like a fire snake, blossomed throughout the hollow of my skull in an explosion of light. I gasped and the pain lingered, penetrating to the inside of my throat, and I gasped again, feeling that the pain might throttle me to death."

"Only at that moment, seconds later, did the noise of the whip impress itself on my mind — oddly quiet, a sedate whickering like a sickle slicing through air — and only then did I raise my hand to touch the place where the rawhide had cut my flesh, sensing on my fingertips a warm sticky flow of blood."

"When I gits ready to feed I'll tell ye hear me!" said Moore. 'And say MASTER!' "I was unable to speak, and now again the whip struck, in the same place, blinding me, sending me afloat outside myself on a reddish cloud of pain. "Say MASTER!" Moore roared.

"Master!" I cried in terror. "Master! Master! MASTER!" "That's better," said Moore. "Now shut up."

Recreates Era

Styron, in his author's note in "Confessions," says that his goal in writing the novel was to try to re-create a man and his era. He has been eminently successful in his reconstruction of both.

Although the author denies any intention of using his story to impart a moral, it is inevitable that the chronicle of Nat Turner be viewed in terms of today's Negro-white dilemma. The reader can scarcely help but draw a parallel between the Negro in plantation slavery and the Negro in ghetto thralldom.

Nat Turner cannot explain that parallel, but perhaps he can help us understand it. He calls to us across the ages. We ignore him at our peril.

Suppose for example that East did hold three diamonds to the king-jack and five small spades. Declarer with three diamonds to the ace would hold off until the third lead. Jim: "Declarer will make it a point to hold off spades until the third lead but this won't help him. He will have to play clubs in order to make nine tricks. When he opens clubs, East will get in with the ace and cash the last two spades."

Oswald: "Declarer might try a trap play here. East would play the king of spades at trick one and lead back a low spade at trick two. If declarer takes his ace then it is up to West to drop his queen and unblock the suit."

Hike Road Jobs By $73 Million

DETROIT (AP) — The State Highway Department reports it plans to award $186.2 million worth of highway construction projects in 1968, some $73 million more than last year.

Henrik Stafseth, acting director, said the increase is possible in part because of recent hikes in the state gasoline tax and license plate fees approved by the 1967 Legislature.

The highway department, Stafseth said, opposes any cutback in federal funds for state highway construction.

"Because of the magnitude of highway needs, we must consider it absolutely necessary that highway development continue without interruption," Stafseth said.

"A continuing highway program is essential for this nation's economic health. Highway transportation is indispensable and our highways must be able to take the demands placed on them."

Dow Continues Campus Hiring

MIDLAND (AP) — Its chief recruiter says Dow Chemical Co. has no intention of altering or discontinuing its hiring campaign on college campuses because of student demonstrations against it in recent months.

Dow is a manufacturer of napalm, a jellied gasoline used in fire bombing raids in Vietnam. Demonstrations have been led by students in protesting the Vietnam War.

Dr. Ray Rolfe, director of corporate recruiting, told the Midland Daily News in an interview that Dow will be seeking more than 1,000 new employees from this year's college graduating classes.

Included among those will be chemical engineers, chemists, mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, industrial engineers, metallurgists and graduates getting business and science degrees.

Dr. Rolfe said Dow recruiters will be on 330 campuses and in contact with students at 540 colleges and universities by next June 1.

Antiwar demonstrations against Dow prior to the Christmas and New Year holidays had little effect, Dr. Rolfe said, with less than three per cent of the students scheduled for interviews skipping them.

Ann Landers

Visit To Cemetery Benefit To Whom?

Dear Ann Landers: I had a wonderful, warm relationship with my parents while they were living. Now that they are gone I am grateful for the many joyous times we had together.

I have never had any desire to visit their graves and I feel no sense of guilt about not going. Is there something wrong with me? My brother and his wife never fail to tell me they took the whole day to visit "the folks" but that it was worth the effort because a graveside visit is so "heartwarming."

I loved my parents dearly and they knew it. Am I being disrespectful because I do not go to the cemetery? My brother and his wife have never said it in so many words, but I know they feel it.—MONDAY'S CHILD

Dear Child: The time to visit "the folks" is when they are alive. A visit to the cemetery might be "heartwarming," but whose heart does it warm?

And now, before I get hit by a blizzard of letters from readers who are shocked to hear that Ann Landers is opposed to visiting graves, I'd like to make it clear that I am not against it, but such visits do a great deal more for the visitors than for the ones who lie beneath the sod.

Dear Ann Landers: Our postman is a very friendly fellow. He remembers everyone on his route with a card at Easter and Christmas and some of us even get small birthday gifts. My question is this: Does the postman have the right to leave a card or gift in the mailbox without using stamps? Isn't this taking advantage of the government? I say that people who work for the Post Office Department do not have the right to mail things free. How about it, Ann?—HONEST ABE

Dear Abe: Your postman sounds like a living doll, but you are right—he has no right to leave cards or packages in the boxes postage-free. In fact, he is breaking the law and could be fined up to $300. I hope he sees this so he won't get into trouble.

Dear Ann: By this time you have probably heard from hundreds of electrical engineers telling you that O' Scottie's suggestion was a phony. He recommended that once the light has been turned on a person might as well let it burn for at least 100 minutes and get his money's worth.

If you want to print some information that has real merit, print this: Almost every day someone, somewhere gets electrocuted because he touched an electric clothes dryer, a washing machine, an air-conditioner, or some other appliance. The reason many of these tragedies occur is because the appliance was installed by a person who was not qualified.

All such devices should be properly grounded to a water pipe with wire of at least number 14 gauge or larger. Some codes require number 12 gauge wire which is larger than number 14.

This is the straight goods and you can depend on it.—WATTS CURRENT

Dear Watt: I checked out your Helpful Hint On How To Stay Warm and the agreement among my consultants was unanimous. People who try to save money by allowing friends to install electrical appliances take a terrible chance. Hire a qualified technician, folks, and pay him for what he knows. It's worth it.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Attack Fatal At Wife's Graveside

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Frank A. Stone, 81, told a neighbor Saturday he was on his way to Jamestown's Lake View Cemetery to place a wreath at the grave of his wife, who died two weeks ago.

Sunday, the neighbor, alarmed because Stone had not returned home, went to the cemetery.

He found the man's body at the graveside. Stone had died of an apparent heart attack, police said.

HOME FURNITURE NEWS
by
Clyde Anderson

THE WALLS OF A ROOM are the first place the average homeowner looks when thinking about where to place the furniture. And in a good many rooms, that is where all the furniture goes... against the walls.

This can be a pitfall in decorating for the greatest beauty and service. All too often it can lead to what is called the "ballroom look." Everything is lined around the perimeter of the room, leaving the center completely open... suitable for dancing.

Grant that the walls are the logical place for many pieces — sometimes the only place. But just as often your room will function better when you adopt more flexible furniture arrangements.

Let your imagination help. Once you start thinking about the center of the room being used, you'll see many solutions. Pair sofas around the fireplace. Create a conversation group with a table and chairs. Look across your desk into the room instead of staring at the wall. And so on.

We'll be glad to help you with your room plan, and with the selection of the right furniture for your particular needs and space. Stop in... and be sure to look over the beautiful displays of quality furniture and accessories by leading designers and manufacturers.

Teen-Ager Tops Record At Pine Mountain Jumps

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Teen-ager Adrian Watt of Duluth, Minn., better known among his pals as "Light Bulb," has set an American ski-jumping record and remained the United States' main hope in the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France next month.

However, the 19-year-old ace who dropped out from the University of Minnesota-Duluth after two semesters to keep up his ski-jumping ambitions, admits that he has far to go.

The best American competitor has ever done in the Olympic ski-jumping event was fourth place in 1924. It is very unlikely that Watt or any of his three teammates selected for the Games will come even close to this at Grenoble.

Watt, a black-haired, 165-pounder, sailed 337 feet for an American record off Pine Mountain Sunday in the final U.S. Olympic Trials. The old American mark was 335 feet by world champion Bjorn Wirkola of Norway last year at Leavenworth, Wash.

Although Watt got the applause at Iron Mountain, veteran John Balfanz, a sporting goods salesman from Denver, Colo., received the No. 1 place on the jumping team.

Balfanz, 27, a 41st finisher in the 1964 Olympics, had jumps of 302 and 293 feet. Watt's efforts were 337 and 317 feet.

In the final judging, Balfanz received first place on a combination of his total points which included the first Olympic trial on the 70-meter hill at Lake Placid, N.Y. This gave him a total of 199.32 points over-all. Watt had 197.41.

Others named to the U.S. team on point accumulation were Dave Norby, 25, Madison, Wis., 194.84 and Bill Bakke, 21, also of Madison, with 194.67.

Tournament officials said two more jumpers may be added to the team later. They could be Jay Martin, 22, of Minneapolis, and Jay Rand of Lake Placid, N.Y. Each came up strongly in Sunday's final round on Pine Mountain's 90-meter hill.

Watt is a dedicated ski-jumper. He warmed up for his record ride by kicking a soccer ball down a street in Iron Mountain early Sunday morning. And when he got to the hill he skipped rope just before he climbed up to make his ride.

"I kicked the soccer ball against a wall and down the street because it helped me cool off," said Watt. "I really don't see much to it. I play amateur soccer in Duluth."

Watt has been a member of the U.S. Olympic squad recently touring Europe.

In the Hahnenkamm ski meet held this weekend in Kitabuehl, Austria, Austria's Gerhard Nennig won the downhill, Switzerland's Dumeng Giovanoli took the slalom and Jean-Claude Killy of France captured the combined.

Of the Americans who competed in the Hahnenkamm meet, Spider Sabich of Kyburz, Calif., had the highest combined total, placing 17th. Jerre Elliott of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was 22nd and Jim Huega of Squaw Valley, Calif., was 27th.

Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., was eighth in the slalom, Sabich was 17th, Huega was 19th, Dennis McCoy of Bishop, Calif., was 34th, Elliott was 36th and Loris Werner of Steamboat Springs, was 42nd. Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., sixth in the downhill withdrew from the slalom.

Marines Trip Esky Cagers

The Escanaba Eskymos gave undefeated Marinette a run for its money here Saturday night but couldn't quite make the grade, bowing by a 64-56 margin.

The setback was the second of the weekend and seventh of the season.

The Spartans climbed into cage race the season for the Eskymos who return to action in a Great Northern Conference game at Kingsford Friday night.

Down by 36-24 at halftime, Coach Bill Howes' cagers battled back to cut their deficit to four points with six minutes remaining in the game.

Marinette's big front trio of Bob Bartkowiak, Bruce Magnuson and Randy Begotka made it tough for the Eskymos whose John Moberg was dwarfed at 6 feet 1. The Marines owned a 46 to 36 edge in rebounds and were deadly from short range.

Marinette fired in 25 of 51 field goal attempts for 49 per cent while the Eskymos hit on 23 of 61 for 37 per cent. Bartkowiak jammed in a dozen buckets and added four free throws for a game-high total of 28 points.

If it hadn't been for a slow start in which they hit only three of 20 field goal attempts in the first quarter the Eskymos might have written a different story. Moberg, Butch LaBay and Dan Mylander turned in outstanding performances in a good Esky team effort. Jerry Brazeau subbing for Gregg Johnson in the third quarter, suffered a head cut on a fall to the floor.

Mylander's 19 points topped the Eskymo scoring column.

Spartans Climb Into Cage Race

EAST LANSING (AP) — After dismal beginnings this season, Michigan State literally rebounded back into the Big Ten basketball race with Saturday's 75-62 upset of conference leader Northwestern.

The victory—MSU's 25th in a row at home—moved the Spartans up to the .500 mark with a 2-2 Big Ten showing and 6-6 on the season.

Michigan State is tied for seventh in the scrambled conference race, but only a game behind Northwestern, leading alone at 3-1 and 8-5 overall.

"We had a good board," said MSU coach John Benington, "but we shot poorly in the first half."

The Spartans grabbed 29 rebounds in the first half to the Wildcats' 19 and outrebounded the visitors 51-39.

Michigan State also was superior at the free throw line hitting 23 of 26 attempts, while Northwestern managed only 16 of 26. The sharp eye at the foul line was an unexpected advantage for the Spartans who had been hitting for only 60 per cent on free throws.

"It was unusual that Northwestern shot free throws the way they did," said Benington. "This was probably due to the fact that they were leading the league and were feeling a great deal of pressure."

Benington, whose Spartans are defending Big Ten co-champions, felt a little pressure himself Saturday as Michigan State missed its first 14 field goal attempts.

Hawks Acquire Veteran Guard

ST. LOUIS (AP) — With the St. Louis Hawks already in front of the National Basketball Association's Western Division, Coach Richie Guerin said he'd "be a fool" not to pick up some rear-guard protection.

The Hawks announced Sunday they had traded rookie forward Tom Workman and their second choice in the 1968 collegiate draft to the Baltimore Bullets for veteran guard Don Ohl. Guerin said he made the trade because Ohl's "experience will help us down the stretch."

Cazzie Reaches Career High 42 Points In Game Against Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — A couple of years ago the New York Knicks won a coin toss from the Detroit Pistons and made Cazzie Russell their No. 1 choice in the National Basketball Association player draft.

The Pistons may have actually got the better deal, but Russell proved his value to the Knicks with a record-shattering 42-point performance Sunday that gave the Knicks a 115-103 victory over Detroit.

Russell was the darling of the Midwest as an All-America who led Michigan to two consecutive Big Ten titles and sparked a revival in Wolverine basketball that led to the building of a new $72 million basketball arena at nearby Ann Arbor.

But Bing made Rookie-of-the-Year in his first NBA season last year, while Russell had a mediocre year in Madison Square Garden and admittedly

Esky Matmen Snare Third League Title

IRON MOUNTAIN — The Escanaba Eskymos captured their third straight Great Northern Conference wrestling championship here Saturday, piling up 110 points to outdistance their three foes by a wide margin.

Iron Mountain was runnerup with 82 points while Kingsford finished third with 67 and Holy Name fourth with 45.

The Eskymo grapplers wasted no time getting down to business as Dennis Collins, Jim Larson and Dale Ford annexed the first three individual championships in the finals.

Emeralds Snap Losing String

RUDYARD — Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Manistique Emeralds shook a two game losing habit here Saturday night by measuring Rudyard, 57-43, in non-conference action.

Gary Sample, 6 foot 3 inch senior, set a torrid pace for the Emeralds with nine buckets and 12 free throws for 30 points.

Rudyard stayed with the Emeralds in the first half, as the teams battled to a 22-22 draw. Manistique eased out to a 34-30 lead at the three-quarter mark and Sample put the game out of reach in the fourth period in which he pumped in 12 points, including six free throws.

The Emeralds hit on 20 of 66 field goal attempts and 17 of 29 from the line in their sixth victory against five losses.

Manistique won the jayvee game, 56-29.

Team Averages 92 Points Per Game This Year

By JIM TRETHEWEY

Ewen-Trout Creek doesn't have a Bob Gale or Terry Conrad in its lineup, but it shouldn't surprise anyone if the Panthers prove strong enough, combined, to repeat what each team did, separately, the last two years.

Coach Rudy Perhalla's crew, winner of eight straight games after an initial loss to Channing, heads into the second half of its 1967-68 campaign with still more height and experience than it had for the first nine outings.

Coach Norm Pangonis had four runners-up in Steve Makosky, Mike Frasher, Don Bickler and Terry Williams.

The Eskymos, who entertain Kingsford Saturday at 1 in their next meet, shared the Great Northern Conference title with Iron Mountain last year.

Heading the Holy Name wrestlers was Gary Corbett who defeated Bickler in the finals of the 145 pound division.

Order of finish by weights:
95 - Dennis Collins (E), Pancheri (IM), Beauvis (HN)
103 - Jim Larson (E), Adamson (K), DeGrand (HN), George (IM)

112 - Dale Ford (E), Pancheri (IM), Kang (HN), Oliver (K)
120 - Paul Lodholz (IM), Makosky (E), Unsign (K), Beauvis (HN)

127 - Bob Adamson (K), Frasher (E), Elignon (IM)
133 - Kim Johnson (K), Scuter (IM), Bonefeldt (E), DeGrand (HN)

138 - Ray Segorski (E), Duval (K), Jonas (HN)
145 - Gary Corbett (HN), Bickler (E), McKie (IM), Tresh (K)

154 - Vital VanDrese (E), Quinn (HN), Bond (IM), Goettler (K)
165 - Terry Brayak (E), Fendenay (IM), Oslund (K), Rusch (HN)

180 - George Wallard (IM), Edens (K), Bennett (E), Theoret (HN)

HOUSTON (AP) — Lucius Allen's wry, impish grin split through the gloom of UCLA's dressing room.

"I just hope Houston wins the rest of their games," said the Bruin backcourt ace, "and we get to play them in the nationals."

"Yes," agreed UCLA coach John Wooden. "I'd like to play them again. They're a fine basketball team." Then, in answer to a question, the normally placid UCLA coach bristled:

"No, it's not revenge," Wooden snorted. "I don't play that way. When I start playing for revenge, I'll get out of the business. As I said, they're a good team and Guy Lewis is a fine coach."

The unbeatable Bruins had just been beaten, 71-69, by Houston's second-ranked Cougars. And they'd been beaten before the largest crowd ever to see a college basketball game, 52,693, in the Astrodome Saturday night, their No. 1 ranking was almost certainly gone and their 47-game winning string was snapped 13 short of the record.

If they meet again this season, it will be in the semifinals of the national championships. And the national championships, the semifinals and finals, will be played at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles, the Bruins' home court.

"Yeah, I'd real much like to play 'em again," said Allen, whose 25 points from the outside shooting kept the Bruins in the game against the inspired Cougars, now 17-0.

"Our game plan," said Houston Coach Lewis, "was to keep Lew Alcinder bottled up and cut off his passing lanes to his corner men, Lynn Shackelford and Mike Lynn."

The Cougars followed that plan perfectly, with All-American Elvin Hayes and Ken Spain doing the corking job on the 7-foot-1 Alcinder and Don Chaney working the defensive backcourt magic on the lanes. It resulted in a 33.6 shooting percentage for the Bruins, compared with their

GLADSTONE Highway Project Delay Indicated

The new highway between Gladstone and Rapid River may not be started until 1972, according to an observation by Ed Buckbee of the Michigan Highway Dept. at a meeting of the Gladstone Lions Club at the Yacht Club.

Buckbee answered questions put to him by Lions after presenting a program entitled "Change".

He said the traffic count on the Gladstone to Rapid River stretch was not as great as on many others in lower Michigan and that the U. P. project would not be given top priority.

He said that $260 million had been cut by the Highway Dept. road construction budget, thus forcing the delay on the local project.

Buckbee showed a film on "Change" which pointed out changes in industry and living. He told of meeting a man in lower Michigan whose whole life was changed when he became blind while in his 60's. He said the man made a satisfactory adjustment after obtaining a Leader Dog donated and trained by the Lions Clubs of Michigan.

A new member, Joseph Williams, was inducted into the club. Rene Maskart was program chairman for the evening.

Train Youth To Aid Retarded

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — An organization to train young people in aiding the mentally retarded was formed here Sunday.

The Youth-National Association for Retarded Children, affiliated with the National Association for Retarded Children, hopes to enlist 300,000 people, 13 to 25, to aid the mentally retarded to "get out into society to take part in activities." Another goal of the organization is to create community awareness of the needs and abilities of retarded persons.

Gas Grenade Closes Theater

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A tear gas grenade was thrown into a theater Sunday night as several hundred moviegoers were watching "To Sir With Love," a film about a Negro teacher and white pupils in Britain.

The Broadmoor Theater emptied rapidly as the customers, coughing and gasping, fled out the exits. The theater was shut down, pending complete elimination of the lingering fumes.

State's School Libraries Aided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan will receive $4,634,860 of a $99,234,000 Office of education allotment under Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Driver Injured As Truck Rolls

A Denver, Colo., truck driver was discharged from St. Francis Hospital Sunday after he was injured Saturday when the moving van he was driving rolled over.

State Police said James H. Daniels, 48, started to pull off U.S. 41 in Masonville Township about 1.6 miles north of County Rd. 428 about 6:25 p.m. Daniels said he thought something was wrong with the vehicle. As he pulled over, he lost control and the van rolled over, officers reported.

Troopers said a check of the truck showed a broken right front spring.

Officers also reported that Thomas E. Lynch, 17, of 310 N. 5th St., Wells, was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way at a signed intersection after a three-car accident at 2:20 p.m. Saturday.

Lynch started across U.S. 2 and 41 from County Rd. C-4 and was struck by a car driven by Albert D. LaFave, 57, of Rte. 1, Escanaba. The impact pushed Lynch's vehicle into a car driven by Albert J. Terrian, 59, of 610 Superior Ave., Gladstone, which was waiting at the stop-sign, officers said. There were no injuries.

Cozier Comes To Watch, Ends Up Playing In Game

DETROIT (AP) — Roger Crozier just came to watch the game Sunday night, but he ended up playing.

And, despite a 2-0 loss to the Toronto Maple Leafs, the Detroit Red Wings saw a ray of hope in a slump that has reached eight games.

"I flew up to Detroit Sunday morning with a friend," said Crozier, who quit hockey Nov. 6 because of the pressure of playing goal.

"He asked me if I could get him a ticket for the game and I told him I didn't know if I had that much influence."

Crozier, after a two-month layoff, decided to give up carpentry work at Bracebridge, Ont., two weeks ago, and return to his $25,000-a-year job as goaltender of the National Hockey League Wings.

Sid Abel, manager-coach of the Wings, sent Crozier back to Fort Worth in the Central League to get back in shape. Roger gave up seven goals in three games, winning one.

He arrived just in time. Reserve netminder George Gardiner came down with a sudden case of influenza, and Abel asked Crozier to try his glove in the net.

Roy Edwards, who had been playing in Crozier's absence, gave up a bevy of goals in an 8-4 loss to Pittsburgh Friday night, and the Wings hadn't won in seven games.

Crozier blanked Toronto in the first period. But Larry Hillman scored his first goal this season on a screen shot and Murray Oliver his ninth in the second period on a deflection. Hillman's came on a power play with Detroit a man short.

"I'm tired," Crozier said afterwards. But he was smiling. "Wait until I come back next week and see how I feel. It's been all right in the minors but they play every night down there."

Abel said Crozier, who still have five days to go on a mandatory 14-day minor league stay, would be recalled Thursday or Friday.

The Wings play at Chicago Wednesday, then return home for a Thursday game against St. Louis and a Saturday matinee against Philadelphia.

"I thought Roger played very well tonight," said Abel. "The whole club played well, but we just couldn't put the puck in the net."

Detroit outshot Toronto 40 to 26, but couldn't get the puck by Bruce Gamble, who registered his third shutout of the season.

Hillman's goal came on a 35-foot slap shot, which was screened from Crozier's view by a Detroit defenseman.

Oliver's goal was equally tained. Bob Pulford's blazing slap shot bounced off Oliver's pads into the net to Crozier's left.

The Toronto victory moved the Leafs into a second place tie with Chicago in the Eastern Division race, two points back of Boston, which blanked the Black Hawks 6-0.

In other NHL games, St. Louis battled Philadelphia to a 2-2 tie, Oakland blitzed Los Angeles 3-0 and Minnesota edged Pittsburgh 4-3.

Spartans Lose Hockey Temper

By The Associated Press
Michigan State, riding at the bottom of the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, got mad this weekend, but it didn't help the Spartans' cause much.

The Minnesota Gophers whipped MSU 8-3 in a penalty-riddled game which saw two Spartans ejected for brawling.

In other WCHA games, Michigan Tech defeated Minnesota-Duluth 4-1, and Denver blanked Colorado College 6-0. In a pair of nonleague games, Michigan trounced Western Ontario 13-3 as Bruce Kovach and Lee Martila each scored three goals and the U.S. Olympic team tied North Dakota 3-3.

Officials handed out 27 minutes in penalties in Minnesota's victory over Michigan State and ejected Spartan goalie Bob Johnson and forward Nino Cristofoli for fighting. The Gophers' Dick Paradise also got bounced in the same brawl.

Pat Dufour had two goals and two assists to lead the Minnesota attack.

Minnesota, now 8-4 and moving up on Denver, 9-4, and North Dakota, jumped to a 5-0 lead. MSU trimmed this to 5-3 on goals by Mike Olsen, Lee Hathaway and Cristofoli just before the second period brawl broke out. But Dufour scored twice and Pete Fichuk added another to ice the Gopher victory.

Johnson made 23 saves before being ejected and Rick Duffett, who finished up for the Spartans, added seven saves. The loss left MSU with a 2-7-1 WCHA record.

Michigan Tech boosted its record to 5-2 in the league with its second straight victory over Minnesota-Duluth. The Huskies now stand 11-5 over-all.

Tom Miller and Rich Blanche each scored two goals in Denver's victory over Colorado College. CC now stands 3-10 in WCHA play.

Michigan Boy Figure Champ

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tim Wood, 19-year-old Bloomfield Hills, Mich., college student, came to the U.S. Figure Skating Championships "feeling I was better than" No. 1-ranked Gary Visconti. And he was.

Wood, a prelaw student at John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio, beat out defending champion Visconti for the U.S. men's title Saturday and will represent Uncle Sam in next month's Winter Olympics.

Wood and Visconti, teammates at the Detroit Skating Club, joined third-place finisher John Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., in automatically qualifying for the U.S. Olympic and world championship teams. No. 2-ranked Scott Allen finished fourth and thus didn't make it.

Wood, a 5-foot-10 political science major, wasn't the best free skater on the ice Saturday, but his over-all performance including the school figures, carried him to the title over Visconti.

In over-all points, Wood tallied 132.48 to 130.29 for Visconti, who was given an assignment to skate in the Nationals by the Navy in which he has 21 months to serve. Visconti is stationed at the Grosse Ile, Mich., Naval Air Station.

Wood said his first semester at John Carroll ended Dec. 22 and that he doesn't plan to return to college until summer. After the Olympics and world championships he plans a 14-country exhibition tour of Europe.

Also qualifying for next month's Olympics were Peggy Fleming, U.S. women's champion for the fifth straight year; runnerup Albertina Noyes of New York and third-place finisher Janet Lynn of Rockton, Ill.

Holy Name Robbed

MAIN OFFICE at Holy Name High School was ransacked along with other areas of the buildings by vandals who caused extensive damage. Desk drawers were yanked open and their contents tossed on the floor. Persons with information that might help in the investigation are asked to call the Escanaba Police Department. (Police Dept. Photo)

Windows were broken, desk and file drawers forced open, and about $84 in cash was taken by thieves who broke into Holy Name High School early Sunday morning, said Escanaba police officers who today are continuing their investigation.

Of the approximately $84 missing, about $60 is in quarters, dimes and nickels. In addition there is a check for $349.79 from the U. S. Treasury Department missing. The check was to the school to finance its hot lunch program.

The breaking and entering was discovered and reported at 6 a.m. Sunday by Charles Cretten, Holy Name High School custodian.

Police reported that entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window on the south side of the school that gave entry to the typing room.

The intruders then ransacked the school, breaking windows in six doors and a larger window leading to the principal's office. Rooms that were vandalized included the main office, athletic director's office, guidance room and others. Files were tossed about and desks and cabinets were gone through. A screw driver appeared to have been used to force open the desks and cabinets.

The loss is insured, officers reported.

DeCormier Folk Singers Coming

For the second time in two weeks Delta County music lovers are to have a major theatrical attraction when the Robert DeCormier Folk Singers come here Monday, Jan. 29.

This will be the second visit here of the group of entertainers who were most enthusiastically received at their first appearance.

DeCormier gained nationwide fame through his work as conductor and arranger for the celebrated Harry Belafonte. For two seasons the Belafonte Folk Singers filled sold-out tours of 90 engagements across the continent, and the formation of his own group was the natural outgrowth of his experience.

A graduate of the Juilliard School of Music in New York, he has been a composer and arranger on and off Broadway.

In addition to Broadway shows, concert hall and television, DeCormier has done a great deal of recording. On Columbia Masterworks records he did the arrangements for the Mormon Tabernacle Choir and the Philadelphia Orchestra, and also with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein.

Variety is the keynote in the program of folk songs of the world presented by the superbly trained DeCormier Folk Singers. Movement is fused with song, lighting enhances the mood, and varied instrumental accompaniment provides aural color.

Curtain time will be at 8:15 p.m. at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium for the third attraction of the 1967-68 Community Concert season.

Mrs. Thomas Dies Today

Mrs. Matilda Thomas, 92, died at 8 a.m. today at the Delta Nursing Home where she had resided for the past two years. She was born in Canada in 1876 and had formerly lived in Grand Marais, Mich.

Mrs. Thomas is survived by seven children including William and Francis Thomas of Escanaba, 10 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

The body is being removed to the Kefauver & Jackson Funeral Home in Manistique and funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time. Burial will be in Grand Marais.

Accidents, Protests Mar World Snowmobile Races

RHINELANDER, Wis. — Final results in the 54-mile Hodag Cross Country snowmobile marathon remained at issue today as a wave of protests and injuries marred the competition.

Two of 16 persons injured in the Saturday race remained hospitalized today, one with multiple fractures of both legs and another with a shattered elbow.

Over 20 machines were damaged and drivers complained about the grueling course which was made even tougher by the lack of snow necessary to handle high-powered sleds.

"A good cross country course is now one strewn with parts and bodies," said John Hetherington, 31, marketing director for Bombardier, a major snowmobile manufacturer.

Results from only two classes in the 54-mile race were certified pending hearings on the protests. Many of the protests concerned claims that the winners switched machines after their original machines were damaged.

Over 500 drivers and 23,500 fans turned out for the three days of racing at Rhinelander, Eagle River and Three Lakes.

St. Stephen's Annual Parish Meeting Held

Members of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church held their annual parish meeting last evening in the guild hall of the church. The business session, following a potluck supper, was conducted by the Rev. Ben F. Helmer, rector.

Chosen as vestrymen for the next three years were Fritz Breitenbach, Nicholas Chapek, William Hay, Donald Martineau and Albert Paparic. Benjamin Johns was re-elected to a two year term and Ralph Thompson to a one year. Johns was named senior warden of the parish and John Lueneburg was re-elected junior warden.

Bids for the new facilities for St. Stephen's and for the demolition of the existing church will be opened at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 27.

The parish recently completed a capital funds drive which, with monies already on hand, will raise nearly $150,000 for the new building to be built on the present site.
